Doctor: Hello, how are you?

Investigator: Hello, how are you? Is this the 303rd Hospital of the People's Liberation Army?

Doctor: Hi, hello, you called the wrong number.

Investigator: Now it's changed to the 923rd. It shouldn't be the wrong one. Well, because my family member wants to go to your place for liver transplant, because my friend told me yesterday that your hospital is also doing liver transplant now, and he'd always wanted to have it done in a military hospital, that is why I called today for some information.

Doctor: OK~, um~, yes, but we do less now. You can go to the Second Affiliated Hospital of Guangxi University for it.

Investigator: Does the Second Affiliated Hospital of Guangxi University of Medical Science do a lot?

Doctor: Ah, yes.

Investigator: Well, your hospital now... please go ahead.

Doctor: Some of their main team members were from our hospital.

Investigator: Oh~, oh, I got it. That means your hospital does less now or doesn't do it at all?

Doctor: Hey, we rarely do it. It might be faster to have it done over there, and it's more convenient too.

Investigator: It might be faster over there, right? That means it is slower to have it done here, isn't it?

Doctor: Yes.

Investigator: What is the name of the hospital?

Doctor: The Second Affiliated Hospital of Guangxi University of Medical Science.

Investigator: Oh, the Second Affiliated Hospital of Guangxi University of Medical Science. Well, okay, so it's better to do it there and it will be faster, right?

Doctor: Yes.

Investigator: Well, okay, thank you, thanks!

Doctor: You're welcome, you're welcome.
